Social Science Expertise for New Renewable Energy Technologies

I am a MIT educated social scientist working at the Austrian Institute of Technology looking for a coordinator and partners from technology/ natural science disciplines. For a recent cv please look at:

The Commission, aside from technology-specific questions, in LCE 06 (as in other recent calls) wants to investigate issues related to resistance and acceptance to new energy technologies, which are related to social science expertise.

I would like to contribute to a consortium engaging into research on new energy technologies. I am a social scientist working on technology and infrastructure issues.
