

Novi Sad, Serbia

Ljubomir Kljajić, Manager at Danube Center for Technology Transfer University of Novi Sad

CONTACT

ljubomir.kljajic@uns.ac.rs

WEBSITE

www.uns.ac.rs

ABOUT US

Founded by Steinbeis Innovation gGmbH, Steinbeis-Donau-Zentrum and Steinbeis-Europa- Zentrum and the University of Novi Sad as its organisational unit, funded through „WP7 Danube INCO.NET“ project with the aim of creating power-up strategies in field of: technology transfer, bio-economy, energy efficiency, and innovations in society, and strengthening cooperation between countries of the Danube region as well.

The goal of the Danube Centre for Technology Transfer University of Novi Sad is:

- cooperation with partners in the „Danube INCO.NET“project;
- identification, legal protection and commercialisation of intellectual property generated within the University and members of University (faculties and institutes within the University);
- to enhance Technology Transfer capacities;
- exchange of knowledge and experiences;
- to enhance the cross-border partner network.

Field of interest of the DCTT:

- patents, technical solutions;
- „know how“ technologies;
- database, software programs eligible for IP protection;
- plant variety, microorganisms etc. eligible for IP protection.

DCTT is managed by the Vice-Rector for finances and organisation of the University of Novi Sad.

AREAS OF ACTIVITY

SERVICES

- Intellectual property
- Commercialisation and partnerships Patent licensing
- Technology transfer